

Before this law was in place I disliked answering the phone because most of the calls that I received were telemarketers. I also felt that it is rude to screen calls. This law has enough bite to stop all the nuisance calls. Now I answer my phone without any expectation that it may be a telemarketer. The law is good just the way it is. It would just be wrong to weaken it.